

ROOSEVELT'S DIPLOMACY

Took Steps That bid Fair to Close Russo-Japanese War.

The Terms are Practically the Only Thing Left to be Considered.

(Special to The Republican)

Washington D. C., June 14. President Roosevelt has brought, if not to a close, at least to a pause, the peace negotiation which for the past week had their center in Washington by addressing to Russia and Japan a duplicate note in which he appeals to both belligerents to bring to a close the "terrible and lamentable conflict now being waged." It is generally believed that the President did not take step without ascertaining that it would prove acceptable to both powers and it is generally accepted as a long stride in the direction of peace. Should peace be accomplished as the direct result of the initiatory steps which the President has taken it will add one to the many triumphs which have crowned his administration.

Summing up the general situation in the light of the best information obtainable, it may be said that following the President's frank presentation of the situation to the Russian Ambassador, which occurred a week ago, the Czar finally sent for Ambassador Meyer, who, it will be remembered is a close friend of the President's. After his audience with the Czar the Ambassador cabled a full account to the President. He made it clear, that the Czar was still unwilling to be placed in the position of suing for peace, although he was grateful for the President's friendly expressions and intimated that he would be glad to know something of the peace terms which Japan would demand.

After a careful consideration of Ambassador Meyer's dispatches, the President sent for the Japanese Minister, Kogoro Takihira, who came immediately to the White House, despite the fact that he was obliged to leave a sick bed to do so. What the character of his interview with the President was can only be surmised, but it is known that Japan still maintains the position that she cannot define peace terms until Russia has done more than express a mild interest in character. The Mikado believes that the Czar should first frankly declare that he is ready to make peace if Japan's terms are moderate and that then, the President, or other intermediary, should secure from the Czar an acceptance, at least in principle, of some of the conditions fundamental to permanent peace. For instance, Russia should, in the estimation of Japan, recognize the right of Japan to an indemnity to property of the permanent evacuation of Manchuria, the permanence of Japan's control of Korea, etc. This much accomplished, a protocol should be signed and the actual amount of the indemnity, the fate of Vladivostok and similar more specific questions could be left for final settlement between the principals. The Czar, on the other hand, maintaining that it is extremely difficult for him to commit Russia to peace without some appreciation of all that peace implies.

Popular Couple Wed.

Rev. Albert L. Maddox and Miss Laura Casebier were united in marriage at 7:30 o'clock last Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. and Mrs. John T. Casebier, near Rockport, this county. The wedding was a quiet one, only a few of the immediate relatives and friends of the contracting parties being invited. The bride is the youngest daughter of Rev. Casebier and is known for her kind and lovable disposition and ladylike demeanor.

The groom is the son of Rev. D. J. K. Maddox, deceased, and was born and reared in the county. By strict application he qualified himself at an early age for the responsibilities of a teacher in which capacity he labored for several years. His labors in the school room were practically brought to a close when he became a minister, though he has taught some since. Rev. Maddox completed his ministerial course in Bethel College in the summer of 1901 and soon afterward received the rites of ordination conferring upon him pastoral privileges. He has spent the most of the time since then in ministerial work and study. He is eminently qualified for the ministry and has already attained success in the work.

Rev. and Mrs. Maddox will reside at Greensburg, Ky., where he has charge of three leading churches. THE REPUBLICAN, along with a host of friends, extends the heartiest good wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Maddox.

Our Electric Lights.

These are a few of Hartford's citizens who hesitate to take lighting with the Electric Lights Company merely because the service covers only half the night. They have perhaps not stopped to consider the additional expense the company will necessarily be to if whole night service should be installed. It would practically double the operating expense and of course would for the time being increase the cost of light to the customers or necessitate the operating of the plant at a loss. The way to procure all night service is to make the volume of business large enough to justify it. Every body should patronize the light company that can without inconvenience do so, because the enterprise will eventually result in much good to the town.

Remarkable Cow.

A recent issue of Owensboro Inquirer gave an interesting account of a cow named Rose, the property of Frank Eades, of Owensboro, it says in part: "Rose was born in May, 1883. In May, 1885, twenty years ago, she had her first calf. Since that time she had been dry six weeks. It is calculated that in that time she gave 17,250 gallons of milk and made 6,240 pounds of butter. Counting the milk as skimmed milk and buttermilk, it was worth $1,725 and at the price that butter has averaged for many years it was worth $1,560, a total of $3,285. Her last calf was born in 1900, and she has been giving milk constantly since that time. She was milked Friday evening and seemed to be in perfect health, as she was in fine condition. Her death was certainly the result of old age."

Notice in Bankrupt.

In the District Court of the United States, for the Western district of Kentucky, Owensboro division.

In the matter of Walter C. Knott, a bankrupt.

On this 8th day of June, A. D. 1905, on considering the petition of the aforesaid bankrupt for discharge, filed on the 25th day of May, A. D. 1905, it is ordered by the court that a hearing be had upon the same on the 24th day of June, A. D. 1905, before said at federal court Hall at Louisville, Ky., in said district at 10 o'clock, in the forenoon, or as near thereto as practicable, and that notice thereof be published one time in The Hartford Republican, a newspaper printed in said district, and that all known creditors and other persons in interest may appear at said time and place and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted.

Witness the Honorable Walter Evans, Judge of said Court, and the seal thereof, at Owensboro, Kentucky in said district, on the 8th day of June, A. D. 1905.

VILLAGE LOAFERS.

National Association of Narrows Holds Meeting.

Rank of Thirty-Third Degree Conferred on Entire Membership.

Editor REPUBLICAN:—I had hoped to write in my next letter of the grand principles of the National Association of Village Loafers report the speeches of Park, Kirby and others but our meeting Saturday was so rich in incident that I regard it a duty to the Association as well as to your readers to report it.

President Park opened the meeting according to ritual, and the roll call showed forty-nine members present. A small group of members in a far corner of the hall was holding a whispered conference, and refused to come to order. "If you have a grievance" said President Park, addressing the group, "come up to the chair and state it." The men advanced sullenly toward the chair, George Foreman acting spokesman said, "Mr. President, I regret to announce that we have formed a separate association, to be known as the Non-Productors' League of America. We ask, sir, for an honorable demit." "Whence this schism? How justify a division in our beloved association?" demanded President Park. "Dishonorable dismission in the public press" said Foreman, "is the cause of it, sir. Your secretary wrote for the papers what purported to be an honor roll of the association, and my name, sir, where were it? And where were Lonnie Phillips' name, and he a charter member? Where were Bob Duff's name and Bob haint worked none for years? And where were Dud Foreman's name, and Dud never left before the regular closing hour (sundown) in his life? And Bill Murphy's name, where were it? None of us (pointing to his crowd) were mentioned. We're the Non-Productors' League of America now and our secretary will do us justice." "Who'll sell your cigars for you?" shouted groceryman Armendt. "Pink Petty has joined our league" retorted Foreman, "and he is going to get our cigars off for a dime apiece."

Endless concessions were offered to induce the Non-Productors not to secede; but smarting under the sting of wounded pride they held out till Carson Park arose. Carson don't arise often—only at noon and night unless the emergency is great. All eyes were upon the speaker. Through economy of energy Carson is sententious and monosyllabic. Everyone knew something short, pithy and to the point was going to be said if indeed, he did not yet forego the effort of saying it. He stood husbanding his energy as a thing he was loathe to part with, and was in the act of setting down without utterance when there arose a shout "Go on!" "Go on!" Thus urged he raised his hand slowly, till it pointed toward the schismatics, and said "Gentlemen of the Non-Productors' League of America, where are you going to get your 'chawin' tobacco?" All eyes were turned toward J. H. Thomas, who now acted well his part by pulling a whole twist of two-year-old hillside. The effect was magical. The Non-Productors' League dissolved like a spoon of sugar in a toddy glass.

It having been ordered at a former meeting that degrees, ranking up to the thirty-third, be established for the association members Eugene Kirby moved that a committee be appointed to rank the members according to their deserts. To save trouble a motion was made and carried to adopt the report of the committee before it was made. The chair appointed Eugene Kirby and John Renfrow on the committee. While the committee was out Hays Brown was called on for a speech, "On how to save the country from plutocrats." Comrade Brown (the Presi-

TWO BEAUTIFUL WOMEN WHO ESCAPED SPRING CATARRH BY TAKING PE-RU-NA.

Spring Fever is Spring Catarrh--Nothing Robs One of Strength Like Spring Catarrh.

MISS ESTELLE CAMPBELL.

Miss Estelle Campbell, 140 N. High street, Nashville, Tenn., writes: "Peruna helped me when almost everything else failed. I was run down from overwork, as I had not been able to take a vacation for three years and naturally my nerves were all unstrung and I was greatly in need of rest and a tonic. I went away for two months, but did not seem to get my strength back, although I was taking a prescription which the doctor gave me before I went away. At the request of my relatives, with whom I was visiting, I began to use Peruna, and you cannot realize how glad I was when within a week I found I was feeling so much better. Inside of a month I was feeling splendidly, ready and able to take up my work again."—Estelle Campbell.

A Spring Tonic.

Almost everybody needs a tonic in the spring. Something to brace the nerves, invigorate the brain, and cleanse the blood. That Peruna will do this is beyond all question.

We have on file thousands of letters which testify to the curative and preventive value of Peruna in cases of nervous depression and run down conditions of the system. We quote a typical case:

Mr. Frank Williams, 3035 34th street, New York City, member First Presbyterian Church and Captain Capitol Golf Club, writes: "Last spring I suffered with malaria and a run down condition which seemed very difficult to overcome.

"I tried several different tonics but did not seem to get much better until I began using Peruna. My recovery was slow, but I was improving and I was glad to continue using it.

"At the end of two months my health was restored and I looked and felt much better than I had for years. Your remedy is well worthy of a recommendation and I am pleased to give it mine."—Frank Williams.

Peruna never fails to prevent spring catarrh or nervous prostration, if taken in time.

Pe-ru-na is the Finest Tonic For a Weary Woman.

Miss B. Inez Silvera, 180 W. 130th street, New York City, Grand Recorder Daughters of American Independence, writes:

"Nine years of work, without a vacation, wore out my nervous system. I lost my appetite and felt weak and exhausted nearly all the time. 'Peruna restored me to perfect health in five weeks. It is the finest tonic for a weary woman that I know of. I gladly endorse it.'—B. Inez Silvera.

Peruna is the most prompt and permanent cure for all cases of nervous prostration caused by systemic catarrh known to the medical profession.

MISS B. INEZ SILVERA.

Pe-ru-na Contains No Narcotics.

One reason why Peruna has found permanent use in so many homes is that it contains no narcotics of any kind. Peruna is perfectly harmless. It can be used any length of time without acquiring a drug habit. Peruna does not produce temporary results. It is permanent in its effect.

It has no bad effect upon the system, and gradually eliminates catarrh by removing the cause of catarrh. There are a multitude of homes where Peruna has been used off and on for twenty years. Such a thing could not be possible if Peruna contained any drugs of a narcotic nature. All correspondence held strictly confidential.

dent has ordered that members must be spoken to or of as comrade said that was dead easy; just vote the Democrat ticket. This stirred Pink Petty's Republicanism, and he was telling us to vote to other way when the committee came in, which squelched the debate. "Your committee" began Kirby, firmly and slowly "begs leave to report as follows:" (A solemn and awful hush fell upon the assembly. The committee report would be final, and the anxiety to know who were to be the high rollers of the association was so great that only heart beats were audible to the attentive listeners). "That the high and exalted thirty-third degree be conferred upon members of this association as follows: Eugene Kirby, J. B. Renfrow, etc." As name after name was called the members honored passed up extravagant compliments to the committee, and when it was thought that every member of the Association had been exalted to the degree of honor the association went wild with joy. The meeting was being held in Comrade Roy Armendts grocery and furniture store, and as the excitement gathered in volume and intensity the frinzied comrades climbed upon chairs, dressers, show cases etc., and shouted till the roof of the house rose and fell like ocean swells, and stamped cabbage, potatoes and candy into a pulpy mass. Such was the awful insanity of the excitement that Dud Fentress and Carson Park raised up on their elbows and asked what was the matter.

When finally order had been restored Bob Duff called attention to the fact that Oliver Willis, name had not been mentioned on the roll of honor. Mr. Kirby arose to explain and said that Willis' name was left off the honor roll because he had said he was going to work that very day, and since he was absent from the meeting for the first time, it gave a color of truth to his story.

Comrade Duff was recognized by the chair and spoke as follows: "Mr. President, I have known Comrade Willis for many moons, and never hath it come to my ear before that he had violated the rules of this association. I move you to appoint a forthwith committee to go at once to investigate this matter." As the friend and defender of Comrade Willis Comrade Duff was appointed to go to Comrade Willis' sawmill and bring in an immediate report.

The committee being dispatched, Comrade Thomas presented in an appropriate speech the name of Mr. Thomas Johnson, of Sulphur Springs, for membership, with authority to organize the loafers of Sulphur Springs. Mr. Johnson's eligibility being so well known he was admitted without debate to membership, and authorized to organize associations at Sulphur Spring and Olanton. Mr. Johnson was directed not to confer degrees above the twenty-ninth order without special permission from the national organization.

When Comrade Duff returned wearing a holiday smile it was guessing that he brought a favorable report upon Comrade Willis, and the report was demanded by a chorus of voices.

"I never for a moment," said Comrade Duff addressing the chair, "doubted the loyalty of Comrade Willis to this association. I have known him too long. I found him as I hoped to find him, aye as I expected to find him, tranquilly asleep on a slab pile. He was evidently dreaming, as he smiled placidly at intervals; and I verily believe," continued Comrade Duff, warning into eloquence, "that he was dreaming that he was delivering his wanted afternoon address before this August assembly, and I move you, Mr. President, that Comrade Willis be made a thirty-third degree member of this association." The motion prevailed.

Comrade Bill Murphey arose at this point and made his maiden speech. He spoke as follows: "Mr. President, and Comrades of the national association of Village Loafers, I raise to ask whence, why and what for, the name Carson Park, the 'noblest Roman of them all,' is omitted from the list of thirty-third degree Loafers? I assume that it was an oversight and should like to hear from the committee.

John Renfrow explained as follows: "The committee made no oversights in this matter. It was sensible of comrade Park's merits, but as the thirty-third degree was the highest authorized in our constitution, and as we thought this entirely inadequate to Comrade Park's merits, we recommended that the fifty-seventh degree be conferred on Comrade Park as a slight testimonial of our regard for his merits." The matter was referred to the next Saturday meeting.

The following new members have been admitted since my last report: Jim Turnham, John Nelson; Joe Shultz, Farree Boswell, Jesse Bonnett and William Hirsch. Several applications are pending.

P. S.—Tom Barrett met with us Saturday. SECRETARY, Narrows, Ky.

SLOW MINK

Can Run Down a Rabbit Because the Latter Is Greatly Frightened.

The ways of life of the weasel or bloodsucker are not fully understood, and their way of killing rabbits in particular presents most interesting problems. How did the minks manage to catch them? In every case the rabbit was apparently run down in fair, open running. In one case in particular the mink had chased the rabbit across a celery swamp as smooth and level as a dance hall floor. Whatever hindrance there was in the foot of snow would have hindered the mink more than the rabbit. The mink is as slow a runner as the rabbit is swift. I have seen minks run several times, but their peculiar, measuring-worm gait takes them along about as fast as a man can run. The rabbit cannot only go with incredible speed, but can course for hours. And yet the mink is able to run down the swift rabbit. The rabbit seems to give up the race; it would look almost as if some unknown law of nature made him the prey of minks, as if he felt that was his destiny and did not try to escape from it. In the cases we observed, the jumps of the rabbit grew shorter and shorter until it became little more than a helpless hop. The marks in the snow indicated that the mink was not being dragged by the rabbit, but that the mink did not overtake his victim until the latter, for no apparent reason, had given up the race. And yet a fox seldom catches a rabbit and probably never in open running.

Then it would seem as if these blood-suckers have some power of which we know nothing. As it is, only one explanation can be offered why so slow-running an animal as a mink or weasel can catch as swift an animal as a rabbit.

We know the mink does not tire out the rabbit by following him leisurely, maintaining his slower gait relentlessly, never giving his victim a chance to eat, and so by the slow, sure process of work and worry wearing out poor Bunny.

Hence it must be that the rabbit has, in common with other small rodents, that terrible, demoralizing or panicky fear of all of the weasel family a fear so great and bewildering that once a mink is on its trail the rabbit becomes paralyzed with it, and instinctively knowing that he cannot escape by running in a hole, gives up.

If this is so, there is a law in nature that we do not fully understand. A law also that which makes a rabbit a coward and a woodchuck brave to his dying gasp. A ferret put into a gray squirrel's hole was at once driven out by the indignant squirrel. A rabbit has as sharp teeth as a squirrel, and a squirrel might defend itself as well as a young woodchuck. Yet the latter will face unflinchingly two dogs and a man. After his back is broken and he is helpless, will he curl up his head and whistle a fierce defiance. Yet a rabbit will not even try to escape, apparently, from a hand it could just as well evade as not. It seems almost as if the rabbit were meant for food for other animals. Nature having given him great reproductive powers and unlimited food and then saddled him with some strange fatality that makes him play his part, in spite of himself, in the general scheme of wild life.

Importing Frogs.

A letter from San Francisco says that the cargo of the steamer Alameda, recently docked from Honolulu, contained a million frogs, rice and bananas. 300 dozen live frogs, crated and very noisy.

They were the result of an experiment in the farming line by George Fandou, an old settler of Molokai. It is said that he dug up some old red flannel originally brought to the islands by the missionaries and found that by floating it in the lagoons a frog colony was immediately established.

From such a slender beginning, he now owns more than 10,000,000 frogs, and he intends importing the increase to that city for the delectation of those who like to eat them. A large part of his profits will be invested there in the purchase of more enticing and later colors in red flannel, and this will be used to stock other lagoons for the enticement of the frogs. He even intends to charter a ship and carry them to the mainland when they are ready for eating.

SOME ODD RECORDS.

Man Ate Thirty Geese in Thirty Days, Others 60 Eggs For Six Days.

Those who fail to gain distinction through other means seem to seek oddity of performance, and every little while there appears a challenge from some "champion egg eater" or other freak.

The forty-quail-in-forty-days performance has been outdone by a man who recently ate a whole goose each day for 30 days, the fowl weighing from 6 to 11 pounds. Other records in this line are 60 soft-boiled eggs daily for six days, six quarts of beans in 40 minutes, smoking 50 cigars in 11 hours without once taking a drink.

A Paris couple recently waltzed without cessation for six and three-quarter hours, while an English actor danced all the way from London to Norwich.

The best club-singing record has been standing for 17 years, when 385 different combinations were shown in 16½ minutes, 2,311 revolutions being required.

A score of 6,434 points was the results of a twenty-four-hours endurance billiard match in Paris, the contestants covering 30 miles in walking around the table, and a violinist has played a composition of 4,800 notes in four and a quarter minutes averaging 19 notes a second.

Reciting Dante's "Divine Comedy" from memory in 20 hours is another queer record, while others have gained fame through making 2,000 ham sandwiches in 19 hours and 40 minutes, dressing 10 sheep in 33 minutes, 200 chickens in 44 minutes and killing and dry picking 103 geese in 10 hours.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

THE WOOING OF FARMS.

Ten Thousand Proposal of Marriage Have Been Made to 120 Girls Who Have Land.

The 120 marriageable young women who drew homesteads on the Rosebud Indian reservation in South Dakota recently have received proposals of marriage from 10,000 men.

Most of them have come by mail from men who never saw the young women and knew nothing about them except that among the charms of each is a 160-acre track of good land.

It would look as if these 10,000 men and perhaps many more still remaining to be heard from would like to marry the 160 acres without much regard for the nature of the female incumbence.

There is nothing very unreasonable about it. We have got used to it. We have got used to seeing rich American girls marry foreign titles and titled foreigners marry American millions. And even in humbler life the practice of marrying for money is not uncommon as it might be.

But the remarkable part of the Rosebud incident lies in the fact that every one of the 120 young women have refused the offers, have organized and announced that the only way to get into their favor is to work into it. The girls invite their admirers to come out and show what they can do in the way of plowing, sowing and harvesting. Suitors who prove by one or two seasons work that they are industrious and provident and in every way competent to care for a farm will stand a chance. No others need apply.

Now here is fine discriminating judgment. If a man and woman are marrying for each other they must be worthy of each other. If a man is to marry a farm he must be worthy of the farm.

He who marries a woman is supposed to have given reasonable assurance that he can support her. He who marries a farm ought to be required to show that he can maintain it.

Foolish girls may be won by soft words, but farms are not to be won that way. Good clothes, white hands, a handsome face and parlor manners make little impression in wooing so cold-blooded an individuality as a farm.

These young women of the farms are fortunate, not only in their judgment, but also in their opportunity. The city young women can seldom put her young man through his business or professional paces to determine his fitness. If she could there might be fewer matrimonial disasters.

Of course as a matter of fact, no man ought to marry a farm or want to marry one. But since 10,000 men do now want to marry farms it is eminently proper that their suits be placed to conventional business propositions.

The Prize Wolf Story.

"The prize wolf story of the season comes from Ewen, Mich." "According to the tale, one James Colgin, of that place, made $364 in a two days wolf hunt.

About 10 miles north of Ewen is a place where the deer are supposed to be quite numerous. It was a sort of a yard, so to speak, where the deer were wont to congregate in large numbers. Colgin believed he could find wolves there. Partly to investigate, but prepared for action, he went to the scene. Wolves where there, and they were raising havoc with the deer, as numerous carcasses testified. Colgin had a quantity to suit, which he cut up and distributed about the place. In each piece he placed some strychnine.

"The following day he returned to the place and found that five wolves had taken the bait and died. This made him feel pretty good. But when he heard a pack howling near by, and coming in his direction he made up his mind that he might easily add to this number if he went about it in the right way. It so happened that he was but a short distance from a lake. He figured that the deer would run out on the ice with the wolves in close pursuit. This is just what happened, according to Colgin's version of the affair. The procession passed him not more than 50 yards away and he opened fire. With a dozen well-directed shots from his repeater he dropped nine of the savage brutes, thus saving the deer's life. Whether the deer then fell upon its knees and asked that blessings be bestowed upon the bold hunter is not recorded but the supposition is that this is just what happened.

"For each wolf Colgin received a bounty of $22, and he sold the hides for $6 each, making $28 for each of his 13 animals, or a total of $354 for his two days work which is certainly going some."

POWERS CASE SUBMITTED.

Judge Cochran Takes Case Under Advisement After Hearing Argument.

Maysville, Ky., June 10. After hearing arguments on the motion in behalf of Caleb Powers convicted of the murder of Senator William Goebel, to transfer his case from the Scott county Circuit Court to the Federal Court, Judge Cochran, of the United States Court, adjourned court and his opinion will be reserved for at least two weeks.

In adjourning court, Judge Cochran said: "I shall have to take time to reach a final conclusion in this case, and to announce it."

"In my short experience on the bench I have had no case before me that I have considered as important as this. It is important, to a proper administration of justice and to my own standing as a Judge that whatever conclusion I reach should be the right one, and in order to reach the right conclusion it is essential that a very careful consideration be given to the case."

"The statute, Section 611, and the decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States construing that statute, will have to be considered closely. It will be essential to read and re-read those decisions, to savor them, as it were, to catch their thought and spirit, so that when I speak it will be the thought and spirit of the Supreme Court, and of the statute that I am declaring, as I understand it to be. I should express myself so fully and clearly that the conclusion will be understood and the reasons on which it is based will be clearly appreciated."

"To do that it will take some little time, although I realize that I must dispose of it by July 19. Just how soon before that I can do it I cannot say, but I shall undertake to dispose of it at the very earliest possible moment and in advance will advise counsel when and where I will announce my conclusions in regard to the case."

Affidavits were filed from ex-Gov. W. S. Taylor, ex-Postmaster General Charles Emory Smith, ex-Attorney General John W. Griggs and Secretary Cortelyou, showing that Taylor was recognized as Governor of Kentucky by the national administration. This was done to show that Gov. Taylor's pardon to Powers was valid.

THE Chicago News says, "Women feel where men think," and this is another reason why many men are bald.

THE Russians are objects of profound pity and it will be considered highly ungentlemanly to laugh at them again.

SOME people are so cruel as to make fun of the sweet graduate girl, but the world would miss a great deal if it had to do without her.

FOREIGN nations will, in all probability, behave better now that Secretary Hay has fully regained his health and will resume his official duties.

FINANCIERS freely give advice as to how to invest surplus cash. But the most important part of it is how's the best way to get the surplus.

THE best way to get your money's worth out of a paper is to read every thing in it, even the advertisements.
THE REPUBLICAN not only gives valuable news but it tells you where to buy to save money; hence its worth is two fold.

THE Rocky Mountain News says:
"No country weekly should be placed in a position where it is compelled to beg for the subscriptions due it. Subscribers should have enough pride in their home town, their home country and their home paper to pay up. It is a black eye to any community to have the home paper continually reminding its delinquents that they should remit. It looks as though the country was too poor to support a paper."

JAMES and Alex Hargis, Ed Callahan and B. F. French, members of Breathitt county assassination society, who were recently arrested in Winchester charged with the murder of James B. Marcum are going about the streets of Jackson as free as any citizen, while Ruck Cottongane, one of the witnesses against them in the Mrs. Marcum damage suit and who was arrested about the same time on a charge of counterfeiting, is in the Jackson jail and has been refused bail in any sum.

VOTERS will be called upon this fall to determine whether or not we shall return to the old viva voce way of voting. The vote will be taken in compliance with an act passed by the last regular session of the Kentucky Legislature which we will remember, was about three to one Democratic. Considering the question in light of that fact it looks like a Democratic trick. But it appears more like the work of some fanatic, who incidentally or otherwise broke into the Legislature, and amid the hum drum of a busy session of that "August" body got a bill through the two houses providing for the submission of the question to a vote.

Be this as it may, we are face to face with the proposition to abandon the secret ballot system of voting.
We are, by our votes in November, to determine whether we are to continue the present system, "The secret ballot," or return to "The walk up and publicly designate your choice system," a system that offers a premium to vote buyers and other corrupting influences and adds greatly to the strife, turmoil and evil effects of political campaigns.
According to THE REPUBLICAN'S view of the situation, a decisive vote should be given against the proposed change.

A SMART GERRYMANDER.

It's really amusing to watch the maneuvers of our Democratic brethren and note the cunning silent manner in which they manipulate public affairs so that, if possible, their inordinate desire to dominate and rule the county's affairs, draw the salaries, of county offices and drop the crumbs which fall from their official table into the hands of less significant, yet equally willing, dissemblers, may be gratified.

As before stated they are crafty "souls" when it comes to adding to their own account under a guise of serving the public. In looking over the field in 1901 they saw that there was no way possible, with only five Magisterial districts for them to retain control of the Fiscal Court, so at the May term of County Court that year, Judge Miller presiding, the number was increased to seven and by astute figuring and concentrating all the main Republican strongholds in one (Cromwell) district, four of them were made Democratic. But alas and alac in 1903 Hartford district went Republican by a small majority. Something must be done before the next county election the artful "souls" whispered to each other. So in due time, as the initial step and in case of necessity, an order was made in County Court by Judge Miller establishing Prentiss voting precinct out of Democratic parts of Cromwell, Cool Springs and West Beaver Dam precincts and comprising parts of Cromwell, Rockport and Hartford Magisterial districts.

They began early so there would be no necessary for haste. They decided to try the strength of Hartford district again which they did in 1904. But lo and behold the Republicans carried it that time by 31 majority. This clearly showed that Democratic Prentiss must be an-nexed to Hartford district which was done at the last term of County Court, and now we have a Magisterial district extending from Alexander school house, about two and a half miles north of Hartford, to Rochester. All of this was done under a guise of serving the public and but few would detect the underlying hand that has wrought the whole matter for practical purposes. A sharp gerrymander isn't it? But don't charge it to our County Judge it bears semblance of unfairness.

Smallpox Scare.

Quite a good deal of excitement was caused in town last Friday by the announcement that Elijah O'Bannon, an employe of the Rough River Telephone Co., who lives in the Eastern part of town, had a well developed case of smallpox. Rumors of quarantine were heard affecting nearly every part of town and there was much speculation as to what would be done to prevent the spread of the dreadful disease. In a short while, however, people regained their equilibrium, the board of health ordered a strict quarantine of the sick

Republican Committee Meeting.

Notice is hereby given that the Republican Executive Committee of

Come! Come! Come!

The Summer Time is Here

Long & Company At Economy Store

Again invite you to come in and see the big values they are offering in every department.

Millinery Department.

Come in, ladies, and look and feel free
And you will go away with joy and glee
Because you will find, now bear in mind,
Just what you want in Millinery.
The colors are bright,
And the marked down price is right
So you will be pleased, don't you see?

Ribbons or Flowers, Hats or Tams
All of these pretty things right at your hands,
Violets or poppies it don't make any dif,
For bargains in this line just see Mrs. Smith.

Shoes.

Come in and look; you will think they are nice,
When you see the marked down price,
Don't fool around and forget about this, but Come right now and get a Low Cut.
If you think though you would rather have Shoes,
You can sure get 'em, it's just as you choose,
We have them in White, Tan, Patent and Blues,
Come in and see them there is no chance to lose.

Gents' Furnishings.

We will sell you a Hat, Shirt, Tie and Collar
And the whole thing won't amount to a dollar.
Umbrellas, Handkerchiefs, Suspenders and Sox,
And the summer time price will knock all others out of the box.

Underwear.

Here is a bargain for one and all,
It matters not how large or how small,
If you are looking for a deal that is perfectly square
Just take a look at our underwear.

Carpet Department.

See our Carpets, Mattings and Rugs,
We guarantee this is no humbug.
The patterns are lovely, pretty and bright,
Come and look at 'em the price is all right.

Clothing.

Boys, young men and old men,
You want to come in and see them,
You don't have to go up the winding stairs
To get a good Suit of clothes that wears,
For we will soon have them on the first floor,
If you see them once you will like them "shore."
We can show you Suits, either dark or light,
And we know the marked down price is right,
Suits that used to sell for ten,
Come in now and look again,
You can buy 'em now for just one-half,
Come bring the cash and we will make you laugh.

Dress Goods.

This department is chuck full of bargains to the brim,
Insertings and Laces suitable to trim,
Organdies, Mulls and Linen Pongeelette
Oh! they are beauties and don't you forget Ten-quarter linens for Shirt Waist Suits,
And beautiful silks—oh, 'twill be a surprise
For the price is right you bet your boots
And you can't see it otherwise.

Hurry, up don't wait, don't ever delay,
Or you will miss the big bargains we have in Pique,
Persian Lawns and Paris Muslins and pretty dotted Swiss.

And so many nice things we can't mention in this,
Remnants are going at any old price,
Come and look once you will sure come twice,
We are thankful to our good people here and about
And invite them to come back again;
It won't be long until you'll have a quicker route,
To come to Hartford on the passenger train.

It is now too late and the customers won't wait
For us to tell you more,
But you won't complain you can see it so plain,
When you trade at the Economy Store.

An Indisputable SAFE INVESTMENT

The material progress which our country is now, and has been making for the past decade of years, naturally brings to the surface numerous schemes of the "get-rich-quick" character that benefit only the promoters of such, at the expense of innocent investors.

In this age of genuine prosperity with every legitimate business booming, wages high, work in abundance, giving employment to all willing to earn, and products of the farm bringing best prices; there is little or no excuse for one not to join the army of money-makers.

The first and safest investment to make is to become a reader of the CINCINNATI ENQUIRER, the greatest and most reliable newspaper in the United States. With the facts, truth and information gleaned from its columns, one may become well qualified to reach out and secure his share of profit that always accrues from investments intelligently made.

The WEEKLY ENQUIRER costs but one dollar for one year's term. The SUNDAY ENQUIRER costs you two dollars for a year. The DAILY ENQUIRER (7 issues a week) you get for fourteen dollars a year.

Without the aid of a first-class newspaper, success in any enterprise becomes problematical. For ten cents you can secure a sample copy of each,

QUIRER. Address,

Notice is hereby given that the Republican Executive Committee of

Come! Come! Come!

The Summer Time is Here

Long & Company At Economy Store

Again invite you to come in and see the big values they are offering in every department.

Millinery Department.

Come in, ladies, and look and feel free. And you will go away with joy and glee. Because you will find, now hear in mind, Just what you want in Millinery. The colors are bright, And the marked down price is right. So you will be pleased, don't you see? Ribbons or Flowers, Hats or Tams. All of these pretty things right at your hands, Violets or poppies it don't make any dif. For bargains in this line just see Mrs. Smith.

Shoes.

Come in and look; you will think they are nice. When you see the marked down price, Don't fool around and forget about this, but Come right now and get a Low Cut. If you think though you would rather have Shoes, You can sure get 'em, it's just as you choose. We have them in White, Tan, Patent and Blues. Come in and see them there is no chance to lose.

Gents' Furnishings.

We will sell you a Hat, Shirt, Tie and Collar. And the whole thing won't amount to a dollar. Umbrellas, Handkerchiefs, Suspenders and Sox. And the summer time price will knock all others out of the box.

Underwear.

Here is a bargain for one and all. It matters not how large or how small. If you are looking for a deal that is perfectly square. Just take a look at our underwear.

Carpet Department.

See our Carpets, Mattings and Rugs. We guarantee this is no humbug. The patterns are lovely, pretty and bright. Come and look at 'em—the price is all right.

Clothing.

Boys, young men and old men. You want to come in and see them. You don't have to go up the winding stairs. To get a good Suit of clothes that wears. For we will soon have them on the first floor. If you see them once you will like them "shore." We can show you Suits, either dark or light. And we know the marked down price is right. Suits that used to sell for ten. Come in now and look again. You can buy 'em now for just one-half. Come bring the cash and we will make you laugh.

Dress Goods.

This department is chuck full of bargains to the brim. Insertings and Laces suitable to trim. Organdies, Mulls and Linen Pongeelette. Oh! they are beauties and don't you forget Ten-quarter linsens for Shirt Waist Suits. And beautiful silks—oh, 'twill be a surprise. For the price is right you bet your boots. And you can't see it otherwise.

Hurry, up don't wait, don't ever delay. Or you will miss the big bargains we have in Pique. Persian Lawns and Paris Muslins and pretty dotted Swiss.

And so many nice things we can't mention in this. Remnants are going at any old price. Come and look once you will sure come twice. We are thankful to our good people here and about. And invite them to come back again. It won't be long until you'll have a quicker route. To come to Hartford on the passenger train.

It is now too late and the customers won't wait. For us to tell you more. But you won't complain you can see it so plain. When you trade at the Economy Store.

An Indisputable SAFE INVESTMENT

The material progress which our country is now, and has been making for the past decade of years, naturally brings to the surface numerous schemes of the "get-rich-quick" character that benefit only the promoters of such, at the expense of innocent investors.

In this age of genuine prosperity with every legitimate business booming, wages high, work in abundance, giving employment to all willing to earn, and products of the farm bringing best prices; there is little or no excuse for one not to join the army of money-makers.

The first and safest investment to make is to become a reader of the CINCINNATI ENQUIRER, the greatest and most reliable newspaper in the United States. With the facts, truth and information gleaned from its columns, one may become well qualified to reach out and secure his share of profit that always accrues from investments intelligently made.

The WEEKLY ENQUIRER costs but one dollar for one year's term. The SUNDAY ENQUIRER costs you two dollars for a year. The DAILY ENQUIRER (7 issues a week) you get for fourteen dollars a year.

Without the aid of a first-class newspaper, success in any enterprise becomes problematical. For ten cents you can secure a sample copy of each, DAILY, SUNDAY and WEEKLY ENQUIRER.

Address, Enquirer Company, Cincinnati, Ohio.

CONDENSED STORIES.

A Family Mixup With Results Decidedly Indefinite.

Among the many court legends related by ex-Judge Schatz of Mount Vernon is one of an Irishman called to the bar on a charge of wife beating. The accused, a light-weight, whose manner reflected more of meekness than ferocity, sat quietly nursing a few facial scars as his wife, a burly woman, excitedly told the story of her grievances. When this and the corroborative testimony of other witnesses had been heard the judge turned to the prisoner and sternly exclaimed: "Stand up there, Holahan, and let the court hear what defense, if any, you have to make to this charge of brutality."

The prisoner staggered to his feet, and as the blood trickled from his wounds as if to emphasize the plaintive tones of his remonstrance, he replied:

"Beggin' yer pardon, yer honor, but Oi don't tink Oi bate her."

"What?" indignantly shouted the judge. "Don't think you bate her? After all the damning testimony we have heard have you the audacity to expect the court to believe your unsupported assertion that you didn't bate her?"

"Axin' yer mercy, joodge, for me bowldness," deferentially replied Holahan. "but, all the same, Oi do be t'inkin' that ef yer honor had been rifereen' the schrap verself y'd 'a' called it a draw." — New York Times.

Fitz-Hugh Lee and the Peddler.
The late General Fitz-Hugh Lee was fond of a joke, and he sometimes played them. A friend of the dead general tells this:

"One day the general was sitting out under a large shade tree at his home in Virginia. A peddler—and there were hundreds of them just after the close of the civil war—rode up and asked if he could sell anything.

"I don't care for anything, sir," courteously answered the general.

"The peddler insisted and finally got down off his horse and began to remove pack after pack.

"I must have something you wish," said the peddler as he turned the packs.

"Well, I might buy something if I found what I wanted," said the general.

"This was enough for the peddler, and he pulled out calico, ribbons, thread, buttons, pins, needles, cheap jewelry, etc., but still the hoped-to-be customer didn't see what he wanted.

"What do you want?" asked the peddler after about ten minutes of exhibiting his goods.

"I wanted a grindstone," answered the general.

"A grindstone? Do you think I carry grindstones around on horse-back?"

"No, no, sir. I thought perhaps you might travel about." — Kansas City Star.

Bark and Bite.
Senator Pettus, the veteran statesman from Alabama, is an inimitable teller of darky stories, and among his collection perhaps the following is one of the best:

"One day a farmer in my state while in his barn observed his dog rush out and begin to bark furiously at a darky from a neighboring farm. The negro at once took to his heels, although he had come to the barn on a matter of more or less importance. Some time later he returned and, making sure that no dog was about, entered the barn.

"Why were you so frightened, Sam?" asked the farmer. "Dan wouldn't have harmed you. Remember the old saying, 'Barking dogs never bite.'"

"Dat's all right, sah," responded the negro, with much gravity. "You know dat an' I know dat, but when do either of us know when dat confounded dog is a-goin' to stop barkin'?" — New York Times.

BABY'S FINGER PRINTS.

The possibilities in finger print identification recently led to a curious question being put to Dr. Francis Galton, the great finger print expert, by the police authorities of a foreign state.

They had received information, they said, that a baby who was heir to a great title and estate was in danger of being kidnapped and held to ransom. Supposing this should happen and the baby eventually be restored, would finger prints taken before the abduction be sufficient to identify the baby and prove that he was not a changeling?

Dr. Galton's answer was that it is exceedingly difficult to print from the fingers of young infants. From about six years of age and upward, however, there is no difficulty, and the prints would be sufficient for identification purposes. — London Express.

Gallant Judge Nicholls.

South Carolina members of the Daughters of the American Revolution, the national convention of which was held in Washington, are very much pleased that a lady from this state, Mrs. Nicholls of Spartanburg, was elected as a vice president general of the society. The ladies were so immensely pleased that they sent the following telegram to Judge Nicholls of Spartanburg:

You are now the husband of a vice president-general.

SOUTH CAROLINA DELEGATION.
Judge Nicholls was quick to respond, and this was his telegram:

I appreciate the honor South Carolina has been instrumental in conferring on Mrs. Nicholls. For my part, I accept the reflected honor and promise implicit obedience to her excellency the vice president-general.

MRS. NICHOLLS'S HUSBAND.

A Soapy Lake.

Some interesting items may at times be unearthed from the consular reports. For example, there is a description of a soapy lake in the annual statement of the trade and commerce of Nicaragua. This sheet of water, the Lake of Nejapa, contains a strong solution of bicarbonate of potash, bicarbonate of soda and sulphate of magnesia. "This water, when rubbed on any greasy object, at once forms a lather." The report says it is used as a hair wash and enjoys a local reputation as a cure for external and internal complaints. The Nicaraguans are not conspicuous for commercial enterprise, but during the year they managed to export "four demijohns" of this wonderful water to the neighboring Guatemala.

Lonely Pitcairn Island.

Pitcairn island is a lonely little spot of land in the southern Pacific. It has 169 inhabitants. Their only link with the outside world is a cutter of fourteen tons, that, with luck, gets to a neighboring island now and then, whence about four times a year communication may be established with Tahiti. A man of the name of McCoy has been president for some years. President McCoy is a member of the Seventh Day Adventist church and has lately been to America. The Pitcairn islanders are eminently religious. They are exemplary in their attendance at week day prayer meetings and church gatherings. They do not use intoxicants.

Shoeblocks Abroad.

The British consul general in Warsaw reports: "An attempt was made in 1901 to introduce shoeblocks in the streets of Warsaw, but it was a complete failure, as, although the public evinced the greatest curiosity in the novelty and a crowd assembled whenever any one had his shoes blacked, the publicity was such that few could be found to submit to the ordeal, and the shoeblocks, failing to make a living, had to be withdrawn." Nevertheless the American custom of commodious public shoe blacking is taking hold in Europe. The arm-chair is now to be found in many places in London.

Paris Buildings.

A practical plan for beautifying the streets is that adopted by the municipal council of Paris to encourage the ornamentation of the fronts of buildings. A committee has just completed its inspection of the buildings erected in that capital last year and selected the six having the handsomest facades. The architect of each one of these will receive a medal, and the owner will be exempted from certain taxation.

The Planet Mars.

Flammarion, the famous astronomer, says of the planet Mars: "The climate is very mild. There are no gales, while the atmosphere is very light, with scarcely any clouds. The inhabitants enjoy fine weather, the climate being something like that of Davos Platz, in Switzerland—dry and clear. We know the globe of Mars perfectly—in fact, far better than the earth."

Timber In India.

There is a growing demand in India for timber other than teak, owing to the increase of factories and of coal mines, while there is also a large export. The oldest form of cultivation practiced by the forest tribes of India was to burn a good patch of woodland, leaving all the trunks bare and black, and then to sow among the fertilizing ashes a miserable crop of grain. This was done for two years, by which time the jungle plants grew up and choked everything. In this way perhaps $2,000 worth of timber was killed to grow $20 worth of grain. As some of these tribes to this day know no other way to grow corn, they resent being interfered with and revenge themselves by arson, and more forests are destroyed.

Its First Jewish Officer.

Emperor William has made an innovation in the German army by appointing its first Jewish officer. He is the grandson of the late Baron Karl Mayer von Rothschild of Frankfurt-am-Main. The young man was serving as a one year volunteer in a Baden regiment of dragoons stationed at Karlsruhe. He let it be known that he would like to become an officer, of course upon adequate evidence of capacity, but the officers of the regiment turned his application down. When the emperor heard of it he appointed the young man groom of the bedchamber, which makes him an army officer. He will be assigned to a regiment.

Dog With Hoofs.

A dog with hoofs like a cow is owned by Daniel Brown and is a cross between a shepherd and a spaniel. It was purchased by Brown from Miles Dickey, a Panhandle engineer, three years ago when a pup, but not until recently did the hoofs grow on its feet, and the owner is at a loss to know how to account for them. The growth has appeared on all four feet and is as hard as horn. When the dog walks across the board floor of the saloon where it is kept there is a sound like the pattering of a couple of children with wooden shoes. — Indianapolis News.

Jefferson Davis' Sword.

The latest discovery at Fort Gibson is a sword which Editor Holden believes was owned by Jefferson Davis, as it was found in the ruins of a house where Jefferson Davis lived when he was a lieutenant in the regular army at Fort Gibson. The sword is owned by F. N. Nash and is in a good state of preservation. The blade is two edged, about twenty inches in length. The handle is carved ivory, with brass mountings. — Kansas City Journal.

An Irish Compliment.

The Irish, with that happy instinct of theirs for the paradoxical, have hit on the right method for paying homage to the memory of Moore. They propose to remove from College street, Dublin, an abominable edifice of his which has long filled his admirers with horror. — London Chronicle.

First Sight of a Train.

"Now and then one hears of people who have never seen a locomotive or train of cars, but these people are becoming scarcer as the time passes, until they are almost as remote as the legendary heroes of the olden times," said C. T. Baue, of Roanoke, Va.

"A few weeks ago, however, it was my fortune to notice the actions of a grown man who had never seen a train or heard the whistle of an engine or steamboat. It was in a little village in Kentucky, near the wild mountain, and this man had been arrested by the Revenue men. He was being taken to a place for trial and at the village where I encountered the party his first trip on the cars was to begin.

"Suddenly the train whistled, not more than a quarter of a mile away. The moonshiner jumped nearly three feet and stood like an animal at bay, his head up and his nostrils quivering with astonishment. And in a few minutes the train rolled in. The man from the mountains, as the engine passed the platform, became as one bereft of reason. Down to his knees he dropped, and with his manacled hands extended in a gesture of supplication and with tightly closed eyes, he broke in a tearful prayer to be saved. He had to be carried on board, and was nearly insane during the trip. From his wild ravings we gathered that he thought the end of the world had come."

"Every man is entitled to a square deal." PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT.

My Own Story By Caleb Powers

This book is a calm, dispassionate account, from the standpoint of the man most interested, of the conditions in Kentucky leading to the assassination of William Goebel, and of Powers' indictment and conviction on the charge of complicity in his murder.

It covers his youth in the mountains of Kentucky, the conventions of 1899, the election, the shooting of Goebel, the arrest, the three trials and the prison life.

For dramatic situations, human interest and political importance, the case of Caleb Powers is unequalled.

A. M. FISHER, Pres.

SMART ANGLER

Invents a Unique Fishing Machine and Hooks Ninety-Pounders.

[Lansing] Minn., (Chicago Chronicle) The queerest fishing ever done in this world is that which Trevor Maitland, a young farmer of this county, does in the deep water of Lake Barilund, near his farm. The lake is very deep, more than 300 feet in many places, and it is inhabited by many gigantic fishes that make their home in the deepest water, far out of reach of ordinary hooks and lines.

Maitland's scheme is as follows: Having once, about two years ago, caught one of the kind of fish that live in deep water, he fastened to it a patent contrivance, consisting of a small brass tube, into which is forced, at a very great pressure, common illuminating gas. Fastened to this is a strong rubber bag, about as large as a keg, and inclosed in another tube. A short cord, with a hook and illuminated bait on it, are fastened to the second tube, the one containing the compressed rubber bag, and the fish, with these appliances attached, is let loose in the lake. It dives at once to the bottom and probably swims about there.

Some one of the great fish down below is attracted by the illuminated bait and bites at it. This jerks the tube off the rubber bag and at the same time releases the compressed gas, which fills the bag and cause it to lift up with a force of about 70 pounds. This is too much for the fish and soon brings them to the top, where they flounder about till both are tired out and easily captured, the hunter fish being carefully put away in his vat for use some other day and the other one used for the table.

The fish caught in this manner average about 90 pounds in weight and are of remarkable fine flavor. Sometimes the hunter fish remains down at the bottom of the lake for over a day before a capture is made and comes up half a mile from the place where he went down.

Local option election, Aetnaville precinct.

It appearing that on the first day of May, being a regular term of this court, the petitioners, greater in number than 25 per cent. of the legal voters in Aetnaville voting precinct at the last general election, filed their petition herein asking that an election be ordered in the said Aetnaville voting precinct to take the sense of the voters of said precinct upon the question whether or not spirituous, vinous or malt liquors shall be sold, bartered, loaned or trafficked in within said precinct and whether or not the law now in force therein regarding the sale of such liquors shall become inoperative, and it appearing to the satisfaction of the court that the persons whose names are attached to said petition signed the same and that each of said persons is a legal voter in said precinct, that the said petitioners have this day deposited with the court the sum of $40.00 an amount sufficient to defray the expenses of said election, it is therefore ordered and adjudged that an election be held in Aetnaville voting precinct in Ohio county, Kentucky, on the 6th day of July, 1905, for the purpose of taking the sense of the legal voters of said precinct upon the question whether or not spirituous, vinous or malt liquors shall be sold, bartered, loaned or trafficked in within the said Aetnaville voting precinct, and whether or not the laws now in force regarding the sale of such liquors shall become inoperative.

The Sheriff of Ohio county is directed to cause to be opened a poll at the voting place in said precinct on said date for the purpose of holding said election, and shall cause this order to be published in some newspaper having a general circulation in Ohio county for at least two weeks, just prior to the date for holding said election. The Clerk of this court is ordered and directed to prepare poll-books and ballots for use in said election as required by law and to perform such other duties as the law requires in such special elections.

It is further adjudged that a special registration be held in the town of Deantfield within said voting precinct on the 28th day of June, 1905, for the purpose of registering such voters who are entitled to vote in said election and who are not now registered. The officers who shall be appointed to conduct said election, will also be at the voting place in said town of Deantfield on the 28th day of June, as aforesaid qualified and prepared to conduct said registration and this cause is continued.

M. S. RAGLAND, Clerk.

By U. G. RAGLAND, D. C.

Pursuant to the foregoing order and judgment of the Ohio County Court, I will on Thursday, July 6, 1905, cause a poll to be opened as and in the manner required by law at the voting place in Aetnaville voting precinct, Ohio county, Kentucky, to take the sense of the legal voters of said precinct qualified to vote for county officers, upon the proposition "Whether or not spirituous, vinous or malt liquors shall be sold, bartered, loaned or trafficked in, in the said Aetnaville precinct, Ohio county, Kentucky?" Given under my hand as Sheriff of Ohio county, Kentucky, this 15th day of June, 1905.

CATCHING WHALES IN NETS

There Days After the Catch Memorial Services are Held.

Whales are captured in nets by the Japanese. The whalers put off from the shore as quietly as possible and when they come within the proper distance of their objective the boats, which have hitherto worked in couples, separate and, dropping their nets as they go, work round to the rear and flanks of their expected kill. The nets are made in large squares, each side being about 40 feet long. One net is composed of six squares in line and the squares are fastened to each other tightly. When all is ready the boats which have worked round to the rear of the whale then commence to drive him gently toward the net. Moving along lazily at first, the whale soon realizes that something untoward is happening, and, hurrying forward, dashes onto one of the nets. This is the critical moment and when the fishermen see that the whale is well in the center of one of the squares they raise a great shout and charge in upon him.

When the whale is about spent a man chosen for his strength, activity, pluck, coolness and general fitness for his work then leaps upon his back and with a great triangular-shaped knife proceeds to cut two great gashes in his body just back of his head. Through the underlying blubber and these two gashes he passes a rope and, knotting it, makes a loop of it. He then repeats the same operation as for back on his body as he can. When the fight has been completely knocked out of the whale boats range alongside of him and by the help of the loops already mentioned the hapless cetacean is slung between them in such a manner as to minimize the danger of his carcass's sinking.

Then the boats form in procession, and, making for the shore, there commences the most curious part of the whole affair. The whalers, with real fervor and in the most solemn manner possible, begin a chanting prayer for the ease of the departing spirit by calling out, "Joraku! Joraku! Joraku!" in low, deep tones. Upon the third day after the kill a memorial service is held in the village temple and prayers are offered for the repose of the dead whale's soul.

Is what Mrs. Lucy Stovall, of Tilton, Ga., said after taking Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. Hundreds of other weak women are being restored to perfect health by this remedy. YOU may be well if you will take it.

Indigestion causes nearly all the sickness that women have. It deprives the system of nourishment and the delicate organs peculiar to women suffer—weak, and become diseased.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

enables the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all of the wholesome food that may be eaten. It nourishes the body, and rebuilds the weak organs, restoring health and strength. Dangers of Traveling.

One of the best stories told about Artemus Ward concerns a journey which the humorist took on a little "one-horse" railroad line in the Middle West. After the train had crept from station to station at a snail's pace for half a day Ward beckoned to the conductor as he passed through the car.

"Say, conductor," he drawled, "do you mind if I give you a little advice?"

"Well, what is it?" asked the conductor, gruffly.

"Seems to me," continued Ward, "it would be safer to take the cow-catcher off the engine and hitch it to the end of the rear car."

"What for?" demanded the conductor.

"Well, I've been thinking it over," said Ward, "and I don't see what's to prevent one of them cows out there from coming into the car and biting the passengers."

We Want to See You. We'll Treat You Right.

We know you don't like to be pulled and hauled all over a store, passed through a gauntlet of clerks and finally turned over to the proprietor simply because you don't find exactly what you want, and you don't want some little whippersnapper of a clerk to insist upon you taking what you don't want. You have doubtless been through this ordeal and vowed that you would never go into that store again. You're right. You don't have to.

Meritable Merchandise.

Merchandise should be sold on its merits. We have this kind—the kind that we are willing to back up. Now, if you need Dress Goods, Clothing, Shoes, Hats, Notions, Ribbons, Millinery Goods, Furniture or Groceries, come direct to headquarters, where you will get the right goods at the correct price. We stand behind everything we sell—that is, we make it come up to the standard. All goods delivered free inside of city limits.

Give Us a Trial.

Don't think that we haven't got what you want, but come and see. Ninety-nine cases out of a hundred you will find just what you are looking for at our store. Anyhow we are confident that we can come nearer than any other store of supplying your needs and in the most satisfactory manner. Try us and be convinced. We also want your Hams, Lard, Bacon, Feathers, Eggs and Chickens, for which we pay the highest market prices. Come to see us. You're always welcome.

Mass Convention at Sulphur Springs.

The Republican voters of Sulphur Springs Magisterial District met at Sulphur Springs June 3, for the purpose of nominating Magistrate and Constable and were called to order by District Chairman J. A. Duff, he being made Chairman of the convention and Willie Lewellen Secretary. A motion was made to appoint a committee on rules of order carried and S. C. Babbitt, Q. B. Wallace and J. D. Johnson were appointed to report at once. The following rules were reported.

Your committee on rules begs leave to submit the following report:

Rule 1.—Voting to nominate candidates for Justice shall be by secret ballot, slip disposed with secretary.

Rule 2.—The candidate receiving a majority of all the votes cast shall be the nominee of this convention.

Rule 3.—If no candidate shall receive a majority of all the votes cast at the first ballot then the candidate receiving the lowest number of votes shall be dropped and the vote shall be taken for the remaining candidates shall receive a majority of all the votes cast, shall be declared the nominee.

Rule 4.—The chair shall appoint a committee one recommended by each candidate who shall count the ballots cast and report to the Secretary who shall announce the result.

This 3rd day of June 1905, in the county of Ohio and State of Kentucky.

S. C. BABBITT, Com.
J. D. JOHNSON, Sec.
J. B. WALLACE.

Which resolutions were adopted. Voting was done by secret ballot and S. C. Babbitt, Bird Wallace and J. D. Johnston were appointed to see that the voting and counting was done right.

The votes as counted; were as follows: W. S. Dean, 77; T. F. Johnston, 44; J. M. Graham 28, showing a majority of 5 votes for Mr. Dean. Mr. Dean was called on for a short talk which he gave without hesitation and the few pleasant words spoken by him together with the broad smiles, which were several sizes larger than his face showed appreciation of the high compliment paid him.

Then nomination for Constable were called for, and Walter Midkiff and Van Bratcher were placed before the convention, Midkiff being nominated by a large majority.

Much enthusiasm was shown in the race for nomination of Magistrate yet, the best of feelings prevailed and every one present seemed to enjoy the proceedings very much.
